

Talk Time

Ask your partners the following questions. For each question, ask one more Wh question. Write the answers in the boxes. Ask the full question, but you may write a short answer.

Questions:	Partner 1	Partner 2	Partner 3
What is the most exotic thing you have ever eaten?
Wh question
What foods would a foreigner find strange in your country?
Wh question
What American foods do you find bizarre?
Wh question
What would you never try, even for a hundred dollars?
Wh question
Are there any delicacies in your country that are illegal in other countries?
Wh question
There is a saying: "When in Rome, do as the Romans do." Do you agree?
Wh question
If you were on a deserted island, and could choose only one food to have, what would you choose?

2) Exotic Foods

Warm Up

Read the sentences. Put “T” for True, and “F” for false. Then ask a partner. Are your answers the same?

	True/False YOU	True/ False PARTNER
Americans eat some foods that I find strange.
I have eaten tongue before.
I think it is strange to eat bugs.
If someone asked me to try kangaroo, I would be a little nervous.
There are some dishes from my country that Americans would find bizarre.
I don't think eating snails is disgusting.
I think anchovies would be delicious on pizza.
Chicken feet are a good snack.
I think people should try everything at least once before they judge.
People should be allowed to eat whatever they want.

Conversation

Michelle: Hey Dominic, wanna go out for dinner?

Dominic: Sure, what are you in the mood for?

Michelle: I'm craving something exotic.

Dominic: Ooh, sounds good. How about some sushi?

Michelle: Actually, I was thinking of something more adventurous- like grasshopper tacos or lamb's tongue.

Dominic: Yuck! That's not adventurous, that's disgusting!

Michelle: Come on! We live in this melting pot; don't you ever want to experiment with unique cuisines?

Dominic: I'm all about experimenting, but I have to draw the line at bugs and tongues.

Michelle: Ok, ok, sushi it is. But I'm going to order fish eggs and whale meat!