Warm Up

Read the sentences. Put “T” for True, and “F” for false. Then ask a partner. Are your answers the same?

	True/False YOU	True/ False PARTNER
There’s a ton of nightlife in my neighborhood.
During the summer months, I often enjoy a leisurely stroll through the park in the evenings.
My parents didn’t mind when I hung-out all night with friends.
Watching a movie with friends is an entertaining way to spend a Friday night.
I’m not shy about singing in front of strangers at a Karaoke bar.
I sometimes go clubbing on weekends with my friends.
After a late night on the town, my friends and I sometimes go to a family restaurant for breakfast.
One of my favorite pastimes is attending the symphony or opera.
On most weekends, I prefer to just stay home and relax with family.
I wish I had more friends to go out on the town with.

Conversation

Michelle: Hey Dominic, what are your plans for the weekend?

Dominic: Oh, nothing much. I was thinking of just staying home and catching-up on homework.

Michelle: Homework? How boring! It’s a three-day weekend!

Dominic: I know, but I’ve been procrastinating for too long and now my homework is really piling up.

Michelle: Didn’t you hear about that new club Mansion that opened up in the City? A bunch of us are going Friday night. Why don’t you blow-off your homework and come along?

Dominic: Man, I would love to! But...

Michelle: Come-on! The hottest DJ’s in the city’re going to be there.

Dominic: Well, I guess I can do my homework on Saturday night instead.

Michelle: Actually, we’re all going dancing at Cielo Saturday night...

Dominic: No way! Stop torturing me!
